"Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome got out as fast as they could, beside themselves, their heads swimming. Stunned, they said nothing to anyone." - Mark 16:8, The original ending to Mark's Gospel

The original ending to the Gospel of Mark is my favorite.

But it shouldn't be.

It is certainly not an ending that ... um ... ends? It stands alone in that.

Matthew's Gospel ends with the disciples encountering the resurrected Jesus and being given the Great Commission ("Go and make disciples of all nations..."), John's Gospel tells of many encounters and conversations between the resurrected Christ and various disciples, including not just Mary Magdalene but also "Doubting Thomas," Peter, and more. And the writer of Luke's Gospel tells of the Ascension of Jesus and then kept on writing, as the Book of Acts is the same author, a continuation of Luke.

All the other Gospels have more to say about what happens after the tomb is found empty, and are certainly tidier and more respectable endings than Mark is, where they just went away and didn't say anything (at least not right away?).

But the original ending of Mark's Gospel is still my favorite. In fact, it is such an abrupt end that as time went on, more complete endings were added. And, of course there is debate as to whether those later editions should be included or not, so the compromise is that our Bibles show the "shorter" and "longer" added endings in brackets after the original, uncomfortable, unfinished ending.

But, I'll stick with the original ending, thank you very much. Why?

Because it is an invitation, a mystery and a choose-your-own-adventure all rolled into one. It is messy and unpredictable and leaves me with all sorts of questions and hope and wonder and anticipation. Just like life. Just like a life of faith. By the time we get to the part where the women leave the empty tomb stunned and silent, we are cheering for them to say something, to celebrate the miracle, to tell others about the goodness of what they have experienced after so much pain of the days leading up to discovering the tomb empty.

Are we willing to walk through the darkest moments of Jesus' last days during Holy Week? And what will we choose what we do with the glorious mystery of the resurrection? You are invited into all of it, exactly as you are.

Yours In the Journey,

Pastor Betsy

Beautiful and terrible things will happen. Don't be afraid. I am with you. Nothing can ever separate us. It's for you I created the universe. I love you.” – Frederick Buechner

Our Church Family

Thanks to these individuals who have recently served the church in special ways:

- To all the parents who have brought snacks and dinner to youth group as well as serving as security during youth groups each week (especially those who jump in and serve when they see a day that there are openings) - both Cindy and Brett Meteyer, and Sally Heisler helped in “last minute” scenarios in January.
- To all who helped with and participated in the Connect & Reflect Retreat and the Lip Sync/ Karaoke Battle on Saturday, February 10. (See Pg. 11)
- To the Loaves and Fishes team for March: Barb Szkotnicki, Nancy White, Joanne Ricks, Carol Cramer, and Paula Fry.

Hello Friends,

Here we are midway (almost) through Lent, which ends with Palm Sunday, March 24, and the beginning of Holy Week. We will be observing Maundy Thursday March 28, and Good Friday March 29, both at 7pm. There will be special choral music for these services. For Easter, the choir is preparing a new anthem — moving and beautiful — to celebrate that special morning.

Come join your HCC family for these wonderful Holy Week and Easter traditions!

Haslett Community Church, United Church of Christ is turning 70! Let’s celebrate! Built Through Love & Work A Legacy of Preparing the Way Ahead

On April 21, 2024, please join Haslett Community Church, UCC as we celebrate the love and work that has built our community of welcome, faith, and care as we look ahead with hope to a future where everyone belongs!

The festivities will include:

- A celebratory worship service including our Haslett hymn “Built Through Love and Work,” a special message from the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ, and acknowledgement of the strong history and past leadership of our church.
- A timeline that stretches throughout the church, marking important events in our becoming the church we are today, and will continue to become in years ahead.
- Lunch and fellowship for all following worship, so we can continue to celebrate together.

How you can participate in the day:

- Save the date and plan to attend!
- Bring a side dish or dessert to add to the meal (main course provided).
- Think about important moments that you or your family have experienced at HCC so you can add a personal touch to our timeline when it is installed.
- Invite anyone with a connection to HCC to join us! Think especially about those with past connections who may not still be receiving our communication so they know we would love to see them. If you have an email address for someone, send it to HCC1@att.net and let us know they should be included in 70th Anniversary communications. Or send a postcard invite (available soon) to those who would like to hear through snail mail.

We will celebrate together on April 21!
